

How would I take care of my hair extensions?

With hair extensions, you are investing in yourself and to guarantee that your investment gets the best longevity here is a list of DOs & DON'Ts:

DO

- Use salon quality color safe shampoo and conditioner. Your stylist will recommend the right one so we ensure that your hair extensions and your hair are receiving the right number of nutrients and moisture.
- Use an oil to keep your hair extensions soft and hydrated. Not all oils are created equal! We have selected and carry a variety of oils so we can help ensure you are using the correct kind for the extension hair.
- Use an extension brush.
- Brush your extensions out twice a day using a “C” motion with the hair extension brush at your scalp area to ensure it gets out any tangles.
- Put your hair in a loose braid at night.
- Blow dry your hair. We don't mince words when we tell you that hair extensions are extra work. Your style time may double. But it is important to blow-dry your extensions. Extension hair is heavier when wet; if let down and wet it can cause extra tension where the hair extensions are attached. This could also cause the hair extensions to slip. We recommend trying hair turbans.
- Use a heat protectant. Extension hair goes through quite a process before getting packaged. We highly recommend a heat protectant. It will ensure the longevity of your hair extensions.

DON'T

- Go swimming in the ocean or pool without first wetting your hair and adding conditioner. Wash immediately after so the ocean water or chlorine doesn't have time to dry in your hair.
- Try to remove your own hair extensions This is a very very bad idea. This could result in severe tangles and bald spots.
- Go over the amount of time that is recommended for maintenance. When your hair gets too grown out it can lead to the extensions twisting and tangling at the scalp which can contribute to bald spots.
